WEST END OFFERINGS

From dining and shopping to activities and events, there's so much to see and do in Royal Naval Dockyard.

Royal Naval Dockyard on Bermuda's West End may be rich in history, but this hub of activity continues to stay at the forefront of modern trends. Once known as the "Gibraltar of the West," Britain's largest naval base outside the United Kingdom is now filled with adventure, local culture and luxury.

West End Development Corporation (WEDCO) has been guiding the development of Dockyard since 1982 and strives to continually develop the area as a world-class destination built proudly on the past, with a clear view of the future.

On the heels of Dockyard's distinction as the home of the 35th America's Cup, this former 19th-century working dockyard continues to up the ante as a one-stop shop for almost anything a visitor to Bermuda should desire.

DIVING INTO HISTORY

After losing the American War of Independence in 1783, and with no American ports at their disposal, Britain sought a port in the mid-Atlantic, between Halifax and the West Indies, from which it could face off America and France and also easily access its interests in the Caribbean. Bermuda's central geographic position, as you might guess, made it a prime choice.

In 1809, slaves laid the first local stones that would become Royal Naval Dockyard's foundation; and convicts from Britain followed as the next wave of labourers after emancipation. From the War of 1812 until just after World War II, Royal Naval Dockyard and the base played an integral role in strategic defence for Britain. It wasn't until 1951 that the Royal Navy officially pulled out from Bermuda. And in the first years after the Bermuda government purchased Dockyard in 1953, the area saw little use and began to fall into disrepair. But soon enough, plans were set in motion to preserve Dockyard as a public gathering ground and park.

ROYAL NAVAL DOCKYARD WAS CERTAINLY THE
ISLAND’S MOST POPULAR DESTINATION DURING 2017’S AMERICA’S CUP.

AC35: WHAT’S NEXT?

In 2017, the 35th America’s Cup made its way to Bermuda, where some of the best sailors in the world convened at the pinnacle of international sailing. It is not only the oldest trophy in international sport; it predates the modern Olympic Games by 45 years and is yachting’s biggest prize.

Royal Naval Dockyard was certainly the island’s most popular destination during America’s Cup, and the storied sailing competition has left behind some major changes. Perhaps the most notable part of the transformation was the construction of Cross Island, a nine-acre land mass that was constructed in Dockyard’s South Basin and whose first use was as the home of the America’s Cup Event Village.

“It’s undecided what we’ll do with it yet, but at the moment, it’s available for hosting events,” says WEDCO Business Development Manager Joanna Cranfield. “It’s a flat nine acres, so it lends itself to almost anything.”

The America’s Cup also left behind the great legacy of its Endeavour Program, which is headquartered in Dockyard. The programme provides sailing instruction as well as education on a range of related subjects and could very well lead to young Bermudians becoming world-class sailors in their own right.

NEW DOCKYARD
DEVELOPMENTS

In a move that will bring the latest technology to this historically distinct site, visitors will soon be able to experience an immersive virtual reality environment at Royal Naval Dockyard. Guests will be whisked away and fully engrossed in a virtual world, made even more real by the sensations of movement and other sensory influences that truly engage the user in a digitally constructed environment.

Another popular form of entertainment, the escape room, is available at Royal Naval Dockyard. At Locked on the Rock, visitors race against the clock to decipher clues leading to their release from the room, which features uniquely Bermudian themes like Casemates Escape, The Tucker Cross and Cupmatch Hangover.

Dockyard is also at the forefront of one of the biggest changes in Bermuda's recent history — the introduction of rental cars, which up until June 2017 were not allowed on the island. Now, in addition to the popular scooter rentals and the island's reliable public transportation, visitors have the option of renting two-seater electric cars, which can be rented and recharged right in Dockyard.

Even as Dockyard changes and adapts to offer the latest forms of entertainment, this West End destination remains a hub for all sorts of activities.

"We have everything out here," says Cranfield. "It's a destination unto itself. There are retail offerings, a full complement of restaurants, and working artisans making pottery, blown glass, unique jewellery and rum cakes. We have our own beach which becomes a club by nightfall, a very popular mini golf course, and the new Bermuda Transport Museum, where every form of transport that's been available in Bermuda from day one is on display."

WE HAVE OUR OWN BEACH WHICH BECOMES A CLUB BY NIGHTFALL, AND A VERY POPULAR MINI GOLF COURSE.

Royal Naval Dockyard also offers a top-notch retail therapy experience, with a wide variety of shops for your browsing pleasure. Several notable Bermudian department stores and jewellers have shops here. Pick up sweets like cookies and rum cakes made on island, and take advantage of reasonable pricing on duty-free jewellery. Some shops feature curated collections of fashion styles from around the globe, whilst others proudly sell items made in and inspired by Bermuda. From artwork to local foods to cedar carvings, oils and incense, you can bring home the sights, tastes and smells of the island.

Bermuda Fun Golf isn't just an average mini golf course. Did you know that it's situated on an acre of oceanfront property and features 18 holes designed after famous holes in the U.S., Scotland and Bermuda?

There's a wide range of restaurants on offer to sate your hunger as you play and explore at Royal Naval Dockyard. From sweet treats like ice cream, fruit pops and delicate pastries to Italian family-style dishes, authentic British pub fare and the traditional Bermudian Sunday codfish breakfast, you're sure to find something to suit your tastes.

Several options for a fun day on the water including Jet Ski rentals, banana boat tubing, parasailing, kayaks, glass-bottom boat tours, snorkelling and scuba outings, and sailing and high-speed catamarans depart directly from the Watersports Centre in Royal Naval Dockyard.

Exploring
Bermuda's
History

You can step back in time and immerse yourself in 500 years of Bermuda's History at The National Museum of Bermuda. But this isn't just any ordinary museum. Here are some things you won't want to miss:

The Exhibits

It's here where you can browse exhibits about the island and its culture, all displayed in historic military buildings of the Keep Fort in Dockyard. Learn about Bermuda's links with the Azores in Azores and Bermuda; centuries of seaborne history through Bermuda & The West Indies; slavery through The Slave Trade and Bermuda; shipwrecks and their artefacts through Shipwreck Island: Sunken Clues to Bermuda's Past; and even more exhibits that touch upon defence, prisoners, watercraft and even banknotes.

Research at the Museum

From underwater archaeology and land archaeology to genealogy research and image reproduction, the research conducted at this not-for-profit museum is fundamental to the museum. You can play a part by participating in one of the museum's archaeology field schools.

Kid-Friendly Fun

For those travelling with children in tow, the Museum Playground & Playhouse, designed by award-winning Danish design company, Monstrum, includes a sand pit, lighthouse with slide, climbing elements and a 70-foot moray eel. The area is interactive, and teaches local history through play.

CROWN & ANCHOR
4 Dockyard Terrace
Tel: 296-9552

Crown & Anchor is a classic Bermudian clothing label, inspired by the island's unique nautical history and British ties. Offering quality nautically inspired clothes, it is favoured by both locals and visitors for lasting style and comfort. The collection draws from Bermuda's distinctive island heritage yet features timeless classic British influences. Crown & Anchor is named after a still-popular dice game brought to Bermuda in the 18th century by sailors in the royal naval merchant fleets. The collections are designed locally and embrace Bermuda's motto Quo Fata Ferunt, roughly translated to "where fate carries us." The award-winning flagship Crown & Anchor store sits in what was once a sea captain's residence within the historic Royal Naval Dockyard and offers a truly unique local shopping experience. Whilst deeply rooted in Bermuda's history, Crown & Anchor clothing is for wherever modern life — or fate — takes us.

As an artist, Lynn Morrell tries to re-create textures and shapes that capture her attention using sterling silver and semiprecious gems. The result is a wide range of hand-crafted Bermuda charms, earrings and pendants that celebrate her island home. She also loves to use individually sourced gemstones in interesting ways as well as colourful, semiprecious beads and freshwater pearls. Lynn's jewellery is simple, elegant and very easy to wear.

West End Development Corporation (WEDCO) was established to assist in the commercial and residential development of the West End, inclusive of the Royal Naval

Anchor Restaurant, Bar & Lounge

Dockyard. With over 214 acres of land — or approximately 1.6 percent of Bermuda's land mass, in addition to a well-established commercial base of manufacturing, retail, hospitality and service businesses — there is still a plethora of exciting opportunities for commercial and residential developments by local and overseas investors. As the Royal Naval Dockyard continues to grow and progress towards becoming the new commercial hub in Bermuda, WEDCO continues to work towards transforming the entire West End into a vibrant "live, work, play" community.
